Certified SAP expertise

As strategic SAP service provider, we support you with regard to the selection, introduction and operation of SAP products. Our know-how and expertise has already been applied in various successful implementations across a number of different industry sectors. Due to the certification, we are even more integrated into the development and certification processes of industry-specific solution packages of SAP. Moreover, our customers benefit from a high level of security and profit from an experienced realisation partner (confirmed by SAP) with the latest technological IT know-how and offers.

Your requirements define our service

Depending on your warehouse concept, we offer you various services and solutions to realise your ambitions and bring about successful project conclusions. According to the task, we either use SAP solutions, SAP Extended Warehouse Management (EWM) or SAP LES/TRM. On request, we can carry out the overall implementation of the SAP solution, from initial system configuration through end-to-end customisation to the development of individual add-ons and the creation of all the system interfaces necessary to satisfy your project-specific requirements every project. We analyse and optimise your logistical functions with the aim of establishing resilient SCM processes for you, your customers and suppliers through efficient vertical and horizontal integration, which may even extend beyond the scope of the system itself. Added value is not created by the simple interfacing of various types of technology and automation – it is the specific design, technological integration and configuration of the functions to provide universal SAP ERP processes that support our assertion that we implement first-class solutions. Long-term experience with complex EWM projects from various industry sectors allow us to draw upon a wide range of special and individual solutions. Experience SAP solutions on demo processes at our technology centre in Giebelstadt and get some detailed information by our IT specialists during a live presentation.
