

Workstation

Solutions that work for companies and staff.

What we stand for:

The following applies equally to commercial, industrial and technical workstations: It's the result that counts. The people are at the heart of it all. The work environment therefore has to meet the needs of the staff and still remain highly effective.

For this reason, we develop and produce ergonomic and performance increasing solutions. As a full-range supplier we also combine customised and innovative products with the highest level of service.

Our strengths:

Our products are produced completely in-house, our consultancy services are tailored to create solutions for the specific situation and focus on the task at hand.

From material storage cabinets to tool and machine cabinets, from small parts storage to complete racking systems, from workbenches to transport equipment, from equipment for canteens to general offices including executive management office equipment – our business-oriented equipment and facilities come as a complete system.

The ergonomic optimisation of our product design is our highest priority at SSI SCHAEFER.

Ergonomics is the basis for increasing efficiency and as a company tradition, this is at the heart of our products and services: the Lagerfix container has now become a world-famous core product from SSI SCHAEFER and has been optimising efficiency at commercial workstations worldwide since 1953.

The benefit to you:

Greater productivity levels and more efficiency in the work results thanks to innovation and ergonomic design at the workstation.
